
Error Code 1007: No Gs home directory found

A: From I am facing a terrible error when I use bullzip printer: Error 1015: Error opening source file 'D:\Program - Bullzip PDF Printer question. Error 1007: an error occurred while running ghost script. Using bullzip pdf program to convert spool file to pdf rather than print them out. It seems you have tried to run the converter from the command line as in this book, but the file name / path is wrong. Since this is a short chapter book, I looked there for the error message: On page 8, it says: Note There is no need to install the software and hardware that was used to convert the book. So I looked on Amazon for the software and hardware. Here's what I found: Installing the software needs an operating system. Bullzip Software is for Windows only. The software can have several drivers to be installed, depending on the printer. There is a list of optional drivers in the software instructions. For some unknown reason, these are downloadable also on this page: There is a download link for all drivers from 2008 up to 2020. Some of them don't include driver installation instructions, some say they are included, but the downloaded drivers are not installed when installing the software. Here are the links to the drivers for the printers I have tested: A4 A5 A6 A6P A6P / NUS A7 A7S A7S 95 A7S 95o A7S 95o / NUS A8 A9 A9 / NUS B5 B5 / NUS B5C B
